COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17, 1909.

NUMBER 19

Be at the court-house Friday evening.

Easter Sunday comes on the 11th of April.
I make Trousers from $5.00 up Iserman, The Tailor.

An infant child of Mr. Dick Bryant died last Sunday night—wooping cough.
If you want to enjoy a laughable play be at the court-house next Friday night.

All my clothes are hand tailored, a fit guaranteed or your money back. Iserman.

Do not fail to attend the Milkmaid's Convention at the court-house next Friday night.

Keep Smiling, and let Iserman The Tailor make your clothes everything up to date.

Every body will be on dress parade Sunday the 11th of April provided there is a pleasant day.

It begins to look like Spring is here. People have commenced cleaning off their gardens.

Every body is making ready for the Milkmaid's Convention—at the court-house next Friday night.

If you need wire fence call on E. L. Sinclair, Co. They have the Pioneer at the lowest price. 19-2t.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hurt are again housekeeping and are living in the Presbyterian dormitory, on the hill.

For Sale:—15 head of yearling cattle and calves. S. T. Hughes, 19-2t. Bliss, Ky.

The Evangelistic meeting will commence at the Presbyterian church the first week in April. Every body get ready to take part.

Mr. L. W. Bennett has contracted with Mr. E. G. Shaw for two cottages. They are to be built, as we understand, near the Mulligan addition.

The Pioneer wire fence the best in the market for the money. Sold by the E. L. Sinclair, Co., Incorporated, 19-2t. Columbia, Ky.

S. Wilson will open his new store at Russell Springs the 20th of this month. When his goods are all in it will be decidedly the largest mercantile establishment in that place.

Mr. C. C. Harvey, who was a prominent citizen of the Willow Shaded country, Metcalfe county, died last week. He was eighty years old and had filled many positions of trust.

Mr. Clem Carter, of Esto Russell county, was ninety-nine years old last Thursday. His sister, Mrs. Nancy Acree, near Montpelier, will be ninety-four in May. Both are in excellent health, and possess the full faculties of their mind.

Fishing promises to be good this season. It is said that a great many "redeyes" have already been caught out of Pettisford, near Todd's Cave, and that they are plentiful in that stream. It is also believed that the recent frosts brought a great many game fish into Russell creek.

Fayette Artist and Morgan Dare, two of the best individuals in make-up in Southern Kentucky, will make the season at the barn of Ike Sullivan, 2 miles West of Gresham. At the same place a good jack will be in use. Horses $10.00 each. Jack $5.00. Ike Sullivan. (19-1t)

Mr. Perry W. Goode, who was one of Casey county's best citizens, was found dead in the road Sunday morning of last week. He was in Liberty during the week, attendance on Circuit court, being one of the jurymen. He left Liberty late Saturday afternoon apparently in good health. It is thought that his horse threw him, as there were no evidences that a robbery had been committed. He was an honored Mason and was buried in the Fraternity, he is survived by a wife and five children.

Mr. Jonathan Blakey, of Esto, was given a birthday dinner on March 14th, it being the seventy-second anniversary of his birth. There were nearly a hundred present to enjoy the passing hours and the many table delicacies with him. His son, Mr. A. R. Blakey, was present and was forty-eight years old that day, while Lenes, son of A. R. Blakey, was twenty-four years old on the same day. It is rather out of the ordinary to find members of three generations of one family all born on the same day of the same month, and exactly twenty-four years difference in the age of each. The old gentleman is in splendid health and highly enjoyed the day with his kin and friends who presented him with a number of presents as a token of their esteem.

MR. C. H. MURRELL DROPS DEAD

A Terrible Shock to His Wife, Daughter, Brother and the Community in General.

THE END CAME AT CAMPBELLVILLE

Last Saturday between the hours of nine and ten o'clock a. m., the announcement of the sudden death of Mr. C. H. Murrell cast a gloom over our entire town and his wife and daughter were frantic with grief. The news was received at the Central office and Mr. J. O. Russell and Mrs. Georgia Shelton delivered the bad intelligence to his loving wife and daughter at home. It was so unexpected and produced such a fearful state of mind that a physician was called to attend them.

It is impossible to describe their grief and terrible agony while the many who called to administer a word of consolation and help heard the loud sobs and heard the heart-breaking cry of sorrow were manifestations of love. The home was full of callers all day and stout-hearted men as well as loving women wept like little children. No other death in recent years has had such an effect on our people and no one has passed over the chilly waters of death with more expressions of grief by the people of this section. Grief, a tribute of esteem, a hedge of friendship, a token of love freely shared by these whose hearts were broken, could not have been more general and should be comforting to them, their saddest days.

The devotion and the help that were so strong as genuine love could build and the evidence of it was as pronounced as it was genuine and true. In the busy walks of life, battling in honest endeavor for the betterment of our community, he was a man of many friends and as few enemies. He was a big hearted man, always on the sunny side of life, sharing in the pleasures of friends rather than lingering in the shadows of disappointments. For nearly ten years he had been connected with The News in the capacity of business solicitor and had built a strong trade he highly appreciated and which speaks much for the fair course of dealings that secured it. His connection with this office was pleasant social and in business, and many a little sparling match in boyish jocularity has been indulged in. He understood his people and was fair to every customer and true to his trust—leaving no wound in his many patrons and The News—a condition that all interested must enjoy.

On Thursday he left home for Campbellville and Greensburg intending to return on Tuesday, but on Saturday morning between nine and ten o'clock, just as he was arranging to leave for Greensburg he dropped to the floor a dead man, while in the wash room in the Commercial Hotel, Campbellville. An inquest was held and death was said to be due to heart failure and acute indigestion of which he had complained that morning and had sought relief at a drug store.

He was born January 31st 1852 and died March 13th 1909, being 156 years and 10 days of age. In 1880 he was happily married to Miss Kinnie Atkins and they have one child, a daughter, Miss Katie, their loving and devoted daughter.

He was a zealous member of the Methodist church and lived within the spirit of his teachings with an unshaken hope of a blessed immortality. The time between himself and his only living brother, Mr. J. E. Murrell, was as strong as ever exist and the sad news of his untimely death was felt in its full force.

In his death this community has lost a genial, big-hearted citizen, his family a devoted husband and father, whose love and painstaking interest and devotion could not be measured, this one of its most loyal and highly appreciated members, and his brother, another whose heart beat in love for his welfare. The acts of kindness, the expressions of deep regret and the many manifestations of sorrow by his friends in this city of Campbellville, where he died are rich legacies in the memory of the surviving members of his family and strengthen the strong ties between the two communities, closely allied in the Good Samaritan spirit for which the family, and The News as well, extend their heart-felt thanks.

The body was placed in a beautiful casket and reached the home at 7:30

Saturday evening where many friends were anxiously waiting. The funeral services were held in the Methodist church on Sunday at one o'clock, conducted by Rev. A. R. Casey, his pastor, assisted by Eld. Z. T. Williams. The house was crowded to its full capacity and both speakers paid a high tribute to the virtues of the deceased and spoke particularly of the unusual devotion manifested for his wife and daughter.

In the city cemetery, in the presence of one of the largest gatherings that have met there to pay the last rites to a departed friend, the body was laid to rest and the mound bedecked with wreaths of the choicest flowers.

In this sad and unexpected dispensation of Providence we extend our deepest sympathy to the surviving brother, deceased wife and loving daughter, trusting that an All-wise Providence may dispel their grief and constantly and abundantly bless them through the journey of life.

The Revival to be Union.

It is gratifying to record that the proposition to make the Hendricks and Carter meeting a general one, uniting all the churches of the community, has met with hearty approval. Pastors and leading church workers of the community are all of one mind as to the need and advisability of the undertaking. So the meeting shall be for everybody and it is hoped that everybody will be benefited thereby.

Let each individual and each church plan for itself. Let all cooperate in the general program for the conduct of the meetings. A united people praying and working for the Master's glory, under a consecrated leadership, will accomplish things—souls will be saved. It is now definitely known that the Evangelists will reach Columbia on March 31st inst. The revival should begin now in the hearts of God's children.

The first union service will be held at the Baptist church on next Wednesday night, March 17th. Encourage one another by your presence. The church should be filled with an eager, enthusiastic people, looking for a revival. God is doing marvelous things these days for other communities. Let us expect Him to come to Columbia.

Let us expect Him to come to Columbia. Let us expect Him to do something that will aid in making the revival a great success.

Let us expect Him to do something that will aid in making the revival a great success. Talk up the meeting. There should be conducted in every quarter of the town cottage prayer meetings, once a week, at least, until the coming of the Evangelists. Invite country friends to come in and enjoy the meetings. Many neighbors will suggest themselves wherever every one can help. Certainly, all can and will earnestly pray. May the union revival surpass our most sanguine hopes.

Sam Beard, of color, is a chicken thief who understands his business, but he came to grief a few days ago. About three weeks ago he sold Mr. J. P. Overstreet, who runs a little store on the pike this side of the bridge, a lot of chickens. Mr. Overstreet put them up to fatten and about the time they got in fine condition, Sam returned in the night, stole the chickens and the next morning he sold them to Mr. Sam Lewis. Mr. Overstreet noticing that at Mr. Lewis' place of business, recognized them as his fowls. The thief was arrested and brought before court and an agreed judgment was entered against him for sixty days in jail.

Traveling salesmen out of Louisville gave a banquet in the city last week to the country merchants. Mr. J. N. Coffey, of this place, was one of the invited guests. Mr. Coffey was called on for a speech, but not being loquacious (?) he at first declined, but he could not stand the pressure and was forced to deliver a few words of comfort to the traveling salesmen, urging them in a tender and pathetic manner to call on him and make their business known where he is in the city. He explained that he thought he had been neglected in the past, and urged them not to again impose that treatment on him.

Casper Jones, a white boy, who lives in the Gradyville country, was before Judge Hancock last Friday, charged with stealing chickens. There were three separate offenses, and he was held in the sum of $100 in each case. He was released, however, and was accused in the same boy who worked at Allen Walker's stable, in this place, several years ago, and who was knocked in the head with a club by Leonard McClure, of color, and almost killed.

Iserman, The Tailor, will be at the Citizens Bank Friday or Saturday, March 19th, or 20th, at your order for that Spring and Summer Suit.

Milkmaid's Convention at the court-house Friday evening. Tickets on sale at Russell & Co's.

Delightfully Entertained.

Miss Georgia MacMillan, reader and impersonator, appeared before a large audience at the court-house last Friday evening. It was her second appearance before a Columbia audience, and while she seemed to be at her best when here last year, the numbers given Friday evening were perfectly faultless. As a lady impersonator she has no equal. Her articulation, expression and gestures are perfect. Her interpretation of child life and character were superb, her manner very captivating. She reads from the best of authors, and to fully appreciate her renditions, you must hear her.

Miss MacMillan is quite a favorite here. She is a daughter of Rev. J. P. MacMillan, who many years ago often preached in Columbia.

Notice.

To Farmers and Stock raisers of Adair and adjoining counties: I have purchased since last season another very fine Jack. I doubt his equal being in Adair or adjoining counties, also at Red Bird Station, which will be registered this spring. You all know the reputation of the Red Birds. He has the size, color and model over most of them. He has five head, two good horses and three good cows. Thanks for past favors, with good will and kind treatment for the future. Come and see for yourself.

Very Respectfully,
SOLOMON MCFLAND,
Cane Valley, Ky.

Taylor County Wedding.

Last Thursday at 1 o'clock Mr. Henry C. Sublett and Miss Lizzie Blewett were happily married at Rev. Wm. Dudgeon, Cane Valley, Rev. Dudgeon officiating.

Only a few special friends witnessed the ceremony. The groom is a son of Mr. Henry Sublett, who lives near Reunion, and is a popular and industrious young man.

The bride is a resident of Taylor county, a daughter of Mr. Charley Blewett. The couple received a number of handsome presents.

Valuable Farm For Sale.

I will sell my farm, lying in east end of Adair county, at Montpelier, containing 200 acres, 55 or 90 acres in fine timber, balance in good state of cultivation. A good two-story dwelling and one good two-story business house. Out buildings good, one day house. The premises are fenced and cross fenced—plenty of good water. Price, $10,000. Go and see for yourself. I might consider a timber deal.

Mrs. E. B. & Sam R. Wheat, Living, Texas.

Public Sale.

On Thursday March 18th, 1909, I will offer for sale at my residence near Montpelier, Ky., the following: One good horse, 13 head of hogs, 75 barrels of corn, 25 tons good hay, farming implements, household and kitchen furniture. Terms made known one day of sale. Mrs. Helena Williams, 19-2t. Montpelier, Ky.

Found Dead.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mr. Rousseau Wilson, a farmer, who lived in Adair county between West and East Fork, was found on the roadside, dead. There were no marks of violence on his person, and it is supposed that heart failure caused his death, as he was subject to the disease.

Leg Broken.

Otho Turner, a son of Mr. W. G. Turner, who was employed in tearing away the old lumborg corner, got one of his legs broken just above the ankle Monday afternoon. At the time the accident occurred he was removing lumber and it broke and fell on him. Dr. Cartwright reduced the fracture.

Dr. J. E. Grant and wife arrived from Burkesville, Hart county, last Friday. Dr. Grant is practicing his profession in the Panama Zone and recently reached Kentucky, on a visit. It will be remembered that Dr. Grant and wife were residents of Columbia a little over one year ago. They are stopping at the home of Miss Minnie Triplett.

Call and examine my High Grade Sewing Machine and have a bid for it if you want a good machine. The highest bidder gets it March 27th when the envelopes are opened. L. R. Chelf, 19-3t. Kniefey Ky.

Iserman, The Tailor, will be here March the 19th or 20th with a fine line of Spring and Summer Samples.

Circuit court opened at Burkesville Monday, Judge H. C. Baker, presiding.

Farmers are considerably behind with their work. Too much rain.

Union prayer meeting at the Baptist church this (Wednesday) evening. Let every body attend.

An infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Dunbar, who live on Casey's creek, died last Sunday.

Mr. L. E. Bradley, the miller for Mr. Green B. Smith, was reported last week to be down with pneumonia.

Three weeks ago pneumonia was prevalent in Adair county. At this time but few cases mentioned.

The Pioneer wire fence sold for 25 to 40 cents per rod at E. L. Sinclair, Co., Columbia, is the fence to use. 19-2t.

We would like for some of our correspondents to mail their communications so as to reach this office Thursday night.

The Republican candidates for county office will begin to hustle, and he that don't hustle will soon find that he is not in the race.

The firm of Triplett & Eubank was dissolved last week. Mr. Triplett, buying Mr. Eubank's interest, the business will be continued at the same stand.

Born, to the wife of G. A. Atkins, Milltown, at few days ago, a son. George says when he reaches twenty-one he will mark under the rooster.

The attention of stock men is called to the advertisement of W. M. Epperson, published on the 6th page of this paper. He invites attention to a splendid young horse and an excellent jack.

We understand that the large business house now occupied by Russell & Co., and owned by Judge W. W. Jones, will be remodelled as soon as the present occupants vacate it.

Mr. R. H. Kinnard, of Nail, was in Columbia last Monday and gave evidence of his good will and appreciation of The News and ordered the same to be mailed to his brother in Illinois.

Miss Julia Eubank, who spent three weeks in Louisville, acquainting herself with the latest styles in millinery, returned home last Thursday night, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. W. T. Price, who met her in Louisville last week.

There were two murder trials during the Casey circuit court which was closed last week. Both parties were acquitted—a man named Luttrell for killing another named Northrup, and Ira Cox for killing Ed Cunningham.

There is nothing so good about Adair county but her public roads. They were in a fearful condition the past Winter and will be in the same fix next Winter unless they are improved during the Spring and Summer. Good roads will build up a county, bad ones will pull it down.

Mrs. J. S. Breeding and Mr. John Beard ordered The News sent a year to their sister, Mrs. Laura Evans, at Trigg, Mo. This is exactly what they should do with many of their friends and relatives to keep them posted with the happenings of the old home. The News will be appreciated by any one who holds dear the "Old Kentucky Home."

The case of the State against Hugh Thompson, who killed his nephew near Danville, several months ago, was called in the Casey circuit court which closed last week, and continued. An effort will be made, as we understand, for a change of venue. Thompson is represented by Geo. E. and Boyle Stone and Judge M. C. Sanfley. The two former get a fee of $2,500, the latter $500.

Mr. Walker Bryant bought a large boundary of timber from Nathaniel James N. Murrell last week. Price private. This is one of the best bodies of timber in Adair county. The Messrs. Murrell have been impounded frequently for the sale of this timber, but never let their consent to sell until recently. Mr. Bryant has two years in which to remove it. It lies not far from Clear Spring church.

There are but few people in Columbia who know where the first city cemetery was located. It was on the hill to the left of the residence of Mr. Geo. A. Smith. A great many of the first settlers of Columbia and their descendants were buried there and for many years after the present one was located a good fence stood around the old one. The writer can remember when many tombstones stood in the lot, giving the names of the departed. There are no signs of a cemetery now, the ground having been in cultivation for thirty years.

Circuit court is in session at Greensburg.

There are some friends of the contestants ordered The News to be mailed to some of their friends and paid it for one year. This was done with good will toward the friend and to place the vote in favor of their candidate. Owing to the crowded condition at that time we failed to keep a record of such subscriptions and now ask every one who received the paper through the courtesy of a friend to notify the office if it is not wanted and it will promptly be discontinued. If no order to discontinue is received it will be understood that you desire the paper and that you will pay for it when bill is rendered. We trust every one who renewed, but are ready to discontinue when notified.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Mr. Plato Wade's stock. By reading it you will see that he offers one of the best bred horses in this part of the country, Gray Lexington was sired by Red Bird, a horse that has produced many of the best in this part of the country and one that has gone in public favor all the time. Gray Lexington has also proven a great sire and if you appreciated the family from which he comes you now have a chance to show it. Small Gardens.

Potatoes for winter use are usually omitted from small gardens because they are a staple product, while most other vegetables are a luxury and their value is largely dependent upon their freshness.

The large growing vegetables which require wide planting are corn, pole-beans, and vines. These give much smaller returns from the space occupied than the small vegetables.

The small vegetables are beets, carrots, lettuce, onions, radishes, spinach, tomatoes, etc. If you fill a small garden with these the yield will be proportionately larger.

Call and examine my High Grade Sewing Machine and leave a bid for it if you want a good machine. The highest bidder gets it March 27th when the envelopes are opened.

Appellate Court's Decision.

The opinion of the court of appeals in the Meuller, Wathen & Kobert cases, on appeal from the Marion circuit court, was received the first of the week. These two cases are sent back for another trial, but Judge Thurman was in error in holding the affidavit filed by Mr. Wathen insufficient to authorize his retiring from the bench and turning over to a special judge the duty of presiding at the trial.

A regularly elected, commissioned and sworn judge has a most important duty imposed upon him: he must preside in the trial of all cases in which he is not legally disqualified, however much he might like, in particular cases, to evade the performance of a disagreeable duty.

When an affidavit is filed, and motion made for a special judge, he alone must pass upon the legal sufficiency of the affidavit. His inclination, on one side, will urge him to vacate, the bench and escape the responsibility, while the obligation of his oath, on the other side, demands that he disregard his inclination, and try the case, if legal cause to the contrary has not been shown.

A party can make any charges he may desire against the judge in such an affidavit, knowing that the lips of the judge are sealed, and that he can not either demand evidence of the truth of the charges, or offer proof of their falsity: according to the law as laid down by the court of appeals every statement in such an affidavit, whether true or false, must be taken as true for the purpose of determining the duty of the presiding judge.

These cases were reversed on the ground that, Judge Thurman though proved his impartiality by correctly applying the law on the trial, his refusal to vacate the bench was, of itself an error.

The court, in discussing the evidence which was taken down in short hand and copied verbatim for the appeal, makes it clear that if the defendants, or their agents, sold the barrel of whiskey to Mr. Lee with the knowledge and intention that it was to be divided on their premises between the contributing members of "the club," or with the intention that any one of their agents or employees should assist in the distribution, they are guilty of a violation of the statute, and just as fully liable to the penalties declared as if they were men without wealth, influence, or high social standing.

To the layman, it would appear that the defendants are, to use a slang expression, "up against it," for the court of appeals has said in substance that the judgment of conviction was right, but should have been rendered by another judge.

It is a mistake for any one to suppose that there is a different rule of conduct for the wealthy and powerful, from that to be applied to the humblest citizen. When the tribunals charged with the duty of enforcing the laws enacted by proper authority cease to apply them to all alike, and fail to regard the fundamental principle of good government that, before the law, all men are equal, it will be an evil day for our country.

THE ENTERPRISE is proud to say that, in this district at least, that day has not yet, an it trust, will never come.

It is time that men cease the cry of "persecution," as a defense to a charge of having violated the law: if a person indicted be guilty, the enforcement of the law is no persecution, and if he be innocent, a fair trial on the evidence will vindicate him, and also the law which is for the protection of the innocent as well as the punishment of the guilty.

In these cases, as in all others brought before him, Judge Thurman has shown himself to be firm, uncompromising, and impartial in enforcing the law as it is written, and as it has been construed by the court of appeals, with no motive other than to perform his duty as he sees it, undeterred by threats, clamor, or any consideration of persons. For this purpose he was elected, and not to bend or twist the law to suit the interests or feelings of any man or set of men.

It is to be hoped that all will recognize the plain fact that the "good citizen" is he who seeks to uphold the law, so long as it is on the statute book, rather than he who claims a privilege of violating a law because it does not meet his approval or may conflict with his personal interests.

Good Enough for Anyone.

The Ten Business Commandments, as outlined by the Interstate Sand Company, Cleveland.

1. Thou shalt not wait for something to turn up, but shalt pull off thy coat, and go to work that thou mayest prosper in thy affairs and make the word "failure" spell "success."

2. Thou shalt not be content to go about thy business looking like a bum, for thou shouldest know that thy personal appearance is better than a letter of recommendation.

3. Thou shalt not try to make excuses nor shalt thou say to those who chide thee "I didn't think."

4. Thou shalt not wait to be told when thou shalt do, nor in what manner thou shalt do it, for thus may thy days be long in the job which fortune hath given thee.

5. Thou shalt not fail to maintain thine own integrity, nor shalt thou be guilty of anything that will lessen thy good respect for thyself.

6. Thou shalt not covet the other fellow's job, nor his salary, nor his position which he hath gained by his own hard labor.

7. Thou shalt not fail to live within thy income, nor shalt thou contract any debt when thou canst not see thy way clear to pay them.

8. Thou shalt not fail to blow thine own horn, for he who is afraid to blow his own horn at the proper occasion, findeth nobody standing ready to blow it for him.

9. Thou shalt not hesitate to say "No," when thou meanest "No," nor shalt thou fail to remember that there are occasions when it is unsafe to bind thyself to hasty judgment.

10. Thou shalt give every man a square deal. This is the last and great commandment, and there is no other like unto it. Upon this commandment dependeth all the law and profits of the business world.

Buyers of Saddle Stallions.

More buyers of saddle stallions than ever known before have been in Kentucky this season and sales have been made freely at satisfactory prices.

It is wonderful to what extent they have been distributed. Oklahoma has come in for a share and the indications point to that state as a coming center of saddle horse breeding. The climate the grasses and the variety of purposes for which this horse can be utilized make it all very natural that in this New State the saddle horse, as bred in Kentucky, should be the most popular of breeds. Saddle horses are so well adapted to these purposes that they cannot fail to give satisfaction.

By the use of prepotent saddle stallions the native stock will increase in size and usefulness under saddle and in harness too. He is a game one too and can be bred up to weight and substance until he becomes the general purpose animal as he has been for a half century in Kentucky. There are several Kentucky breeders of saddle horses in Oklahoma, and they were satisfied before investing.—Farmers Home Journal.

The Lurid Glow of Doom

was seen in the red face, hands and body of the little son of H. M. Adams, of Henrietta, Pa. His awful plight from eczema had for five years, defied all remedies and baffled the best doctors, who said the poisoned blood had affected his lungs and nothing could save him. "But," writes his mother, "seven bottles of Electric Bitters completely cured him." For Eruptions, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Sores and all Blood Disorders and Rheumatism Electric Bitters is supreme. A Sad Death.

Mrs. Hettie Wells, of near Sewelton, Russell county, Ky., was suddenly called to her heavenly home on the night of February 26, 1909.

While sitting on the hearth by the fire all alone, reading, it is supposed that she dozed off to sleep and her clothing catching fire and being all ablaze when she awoke, frightening her so she failed to extinguish the flames. Mr. Luther McKinley hearing her cries, came to her rescue finding her out in the yard lying on the ground with her clothing all burning off excepting a small band around the waist and her stockings.

By the aid of Mr. McKinley and others who had reached the scene, Hettie walked to the door and then sank down. They carried her in and laying her on the bed she told them she was going to God, for them all to meet her in Heaven.

She was 21 years old and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Holt. She leaves a husband and two small children, a father, mother, brothers, and sisters to mourn her sad fate.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. R. Grider in the presence of a large crowd. After which her mortal remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Owensby, Ky.

Call not back the dear departed, An anchored safe where storms are o'er On the border land we lost her, Soon to meet and part no more.

When we leave this world of changes, When we leave this world of care, We shall find our missing loved one In our Father's mansion fair.

DOLPHINS.

The Species That Play Around the Shores of Brittany.

Dolphin hunting as a sport is old to the Malouins, the inhabitants of St. Malo. Several species of dolphins are to be met with near the shores of Brittany. The largest is known to science as Delphinus delphis and differs from other varieties by its long jaws, very like the beak of a big bird, and armed with about sixty teeth as hard and sharp as steel. Its length may reach nine feet, and it weighs from 300 to 400 pounds. A swift swimmer, it preys on the schools of herrings, following them right up to the Scottish waters. In spite of its greed it is noted for its mild temper and frequently amuses itself by playing around ships in the open sea. There is the Delphinus tursio, or swordfish. This is smaller, and its beak is shorter, though armed with strong, powerful teeth that enable it to attack a big fish, pinning it down to the rocks with such force that its nose is often deeply marked with numerous cuts. This dolphin hates the very sight of a ship and never comes close to one. Finally there is the porpoise, or man-of-war. The smallest species of the genus. Much sport may be obtained by hunting these various dolphins. Wide World Magazine.

HIS UMBRELLA.

It Was the Cause of Rival Family Secrets in Public.

A young man was riding in an omnibus. He took the corner seat and held in his hand an umbrella which had been given him as a birthday present. On the seat facing him was a lady with a precious boy, evidently about five years old.

The youngster regarded the young man with attention for a few moments, and then his eyes wandered to the umbrella. He gazed at it in silence for a second; then he wriggled in his seat, clapped his hands and shouted:

"Oh, mamma, don't that look like papa's umbrella?"

"Hush, hush, my child," said the mother, patting the prodigy on the head.

"Papa was looking for his umbrella this morning, mamma," continued the child wonder.

"Yes, yes, but he found it," said the mother hurriedly, as the conversation was becoming of interest to the occupants of the seats.

"Why, mamma," continued the youngster, "you know he didn't. You told him that he didn't know enough to keep an umbrella. Why, mamma?"

At this stage the small boy was carried howling from the bus.—Pearson's Weekly.

Hailstones That Kill Cattle.

"Hailstones as big as baseballs—hail stones that kill cattle!"

"Rubbish!"

"It is the truth," declared the weather man. "These hailstones fall in the neighborhood of the Sierra Tapichiltepec near Buenos Aires. Darwin himself is my witness. Darwin testifies for me in his splendid book, 'The Voyage of the Beagle.'"

"The great scientist saw what I saw, hailstones the size of oranges, crashing and smashing with a noise like a railroad collision. After the storm he came upon thirteen dead deer and fifteen dead ostriches. His companions saw several ostriches blinded in one eye and another ostrich running furiously in crazy circles, blinded in both eyes by those terrible stones."

"What I saw was a herd of forty cattle, all lying dead. About them the grass was gray and white with slain birds—ducks, hawks, partridges."

The Ancient Stone Slings.

It has been said that Asiatic nations excelled others in the use of the sling, and the slingers of an ancient army used their little weapons with terrible effect. "These natives have such skill," says one old historian, "that it very rarely happens that they miss their aim. What makes them so great in the use of the sling is the training given them from their earliest years by their mothers, who set up a piece of bread hung at the end of a rod for a target and let their children remain without food until they have hit it when the child who is the victor receives the bread as the reward of his skill and patience."

The Bedouin's Bed.

An interesting paper at the medical mission at Haifa, Palestine, is alluded to in the annual report of the S. P. C. K. Dr. Coles writes: "During the year we have had many patients from very desolate parts of Asia. One was a Bedouin who had never been inside of a house with windows and had never seen a bedstead. He wanted to sleep under the sky, fearing to fall off if he tried to sleep in it, saying: 'I can't stay awake all night holding on to this bunk. Besides, it will keep me stiff!' It was a spring mattress."

Her Triumph.

Penelope (triumphantly)—I heard last night that Jack was dead over ears in love with me. Grace (jealously)—You cannot believe all you hear. Penelope—No, but I should not wonder if there was something in it. Grace—Why? Who told you? Penelope—He did.

Cured.

"My wife will never buy any more cigars for me."

"Why not?"

"I insisted upon smoking all of the last lot in the house. Some of the cigars still reek with them."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

If you would not cease to love mankind you must not cease to do their good.—MacLaren.

"An Average Christian."

An average Christian is hardly a Christian at all. He gets no enjoyment from his religion. It is rather a burden to him in that he is compelled for appearance's sake, to deny himself of many things in which he would like to indulge. He produces no fruit. He is conscious of an inward lack of true Christian spirit and purpose in life, and hence is afraid to engage in any very decided religious work, for fear he will be caught some time in a somewhat compromising position. He is not relied upon by those in the church or out of it for his life has no force to it. He is counted as much on one side of any great moral question as another, because he never takes a positive stand, one known to all men, in favor of the high moral and religious conduct of any public or semi-public matters. He is simply an average man, having average views of the most vital questions of this or any other time. He will follow along after others and die at last unwept and unsung. He will never be missed from the great army of active, efficient, happy, fruitful Christians. May you not be of this kind.—Central Methodist.

Amandaville.

Crook Creek was very high last week from the late rains; reaching within two feet of its flood mark made in June nearly two years ago. About ten thousand cedar poles and five or six hundred saw logs together with the cedar Companies booms at the mouth of the creek were washed out, pell mell, into the turbulent waters of Cumberland river, wending their way South in a loose, much scattered condition, necessarily entailing a heavy loss on the Cedar Company and saw-log men.

At a Republican primary held in this county on Tuesday the 2nd, Mr. W. G. Keen a young attorney and son, Dr. W. C. Keen, of Burkesville, won the nomination as candidate for Representative of Cumberland and Adair county by three votes only. There were two other candidates in the race with Mr. Keen, all good men, of whom any one of the three would make up a good Representative.

There is considerable sickness in this community, mostly of La-Grippe, and some of its many complications in most of the cases.

Mr. M. A. Armstrong, the largest man in Cumberland county as well as one of our very best citizens and neighbors, died at his home near this place on Tuesday night, the 2nd, from the effects of La-Grippe with a complication of heart trouble. He was six feet and eight inches tall, wore a No. 14 shoe and weighed three hundred and twenty pounds, ordinarily, and was, before he was crippled up with rheumatism some years ago, straight and erect and very stout. He was born and raised near Creelsboro, in Russell county, Ky., married and located on a farm on Crocus creek, near the Adair county line, while a young man, where he lived until his death, a few days ago. He was a splendid farmer and had made a success of it; was a big hearted good citizen and neighbor and will be mightily missed by his six girl children, who survive him, as well as by this whole community, whose sympathy they have in their sad bereavement. After funeral services held at the residence Thursday morning by Bro. Abrel, the body was taken charge of by the members of Glenville lodge, F. and A. Masons, of which he was a member in full fellowship and good standing, and decently and nicely interred in the family burying ground near his home, with a beautiful, solemn and touching service from that lodge, in the presence of a large audience of sympathizing friends and neighbors.

Near Death in Big Pond.

It was a thrilling experience to Mrs. Ida Soper to face death. "For years a severe lung trouble gave me intense suffering," she writes, "and several times nearly caused my death. All remedies failed and doctors said I was incurable. Then Dr. King's New Life Pills brought quick relief and a cure so permanent that I have not been troubled in twelve years." Mrs. Soper lives in Big Pond, Pa. It works wonders in Coughs and Colds, Sore Lungs, Hemorrhages, La-Grippe, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough and all Bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. CHAS. S. HARRIS - Editor

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interests of the city of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.Entered at the Columbia Postoffice as second class mail matter.

WED. MARCH 17, 1909.

It was given out that the new tariff bill would be introduced in Congress to-day.

The home of Norman E. Mack,
Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was destroyed by fire in Buffalo, New York, last Wednesday night.

Senator Bailey, of Texas, called and paid his respects to Mr.
Taft last Wednesday. It was the second time in life Mr. Bailey visited the White House.

The Government's case against the Standard Oil Company was brought to a close in Chicago.
Judge Anderson instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty.

The $29,000,000 fine against the Standard Oil Company was knocked out by the instructions of the Judge. That the fine was excessive, out of proportion, and largely made as a sensational advertisement we hardly have a doubt, but the Standard Oil Company was evidently proven guilty of gross violation of law and should be made to meet a reasonable penalty. If it is to be permitted to discriminate against communities and business concerns, allowed to crush out competitors at its own pleasure, the day is not far distant when its full force will be felt.
Corporate power and greed must be checked or the final reckoning will be a memorable one. The people will not always endure unjust treatment and oppression.

The Republican Executive Committee met in the Courthouse last Monday and put to rest the speculations as to how and when their nominations are to be made. After a painstaking inquiry it met the expressed will of the candidates by calling a primary to be held April 24th and pledged each and every candidate under oath not to use money, liquor or anything of value to corrupt the voters of their party. It also provided that each candidate make oath to stand to the ticket thus made and not to make an independent race or to aid or contenance any one in so doing. In fact the action of the Committee seemed to be only to meet the demands of the candidates and the popular wave of their party and at the same time close every door of escape to any one who might feel inclined to flee from supporting the one who wins over him.

From a Republican view point the committee should be congratulated in meeting the demands and for fair square deal to all aspirants and in demanding that debauchery with whiskey and money should not be tolerated.
In this we and all good citizens must extend congratulations. Mr.
M. Rey Yarberry tendered his resignation as chairman in a few well chosen words and announced his desire to be the nominee for County Attorney. The Committee accepted the resignation and elected Mr. W. A. Coffey chairman and Mr. Geo. Stults Secretary, and adjourned.

Grey Lexington The Red Bird Stallion

Is a Steel Grey, 16 hands high, and when fat weighs Twelve Hundred Pounds.

As an individual he is rather plain, but not any more so than Red Bird. On account of his plain individuality, for years old Red Bird's worth as a breeder was not known or appreciated. Having a common appearance he was given a poor opportunity to demonstrate his worth. For this reason he was fifteen years old before the public fully realized that he was the greatest sire that this county has ever produced. Red Bird is now owned by Judge Thurman, of Springfield, Ky., and though he stands at a high price he does not lack for patronage, and notwithstanding his age he can not be bought to-day for $1,000.00. The time has already come when the horse, like man, is judged by what he can do rather than by his appearance alone. Grey Lexington has the combined action of the saddle horse and the trotter. In harness he can go high and fast. No horse in Adair county, not standard bred, can pass him on the road. As a saddle horse he has five distinct gaits. Goes a nodding walk in some style, or can rack a mile on short notice. He is free from defects or blemishes, has good eyes, plenty of sense and is pleasant to handle. He has already proven himself to be a fine breeder. On account of his common individuality he has not had an opportunity to serve many first-class mares, but notwithstanding this fact if he has ever sired an inferior or undersized colt no one knows where to find it.

This is a statement that can be made about but few horses, and of course cannot be truthfully said of any horse that has had a great deal of custom. The first colt sired by Grey Lexington is now owned by Lloyd Watson, of Cane Valley. She is only two years old, but could not be bought for less than $200.00. No one in Adair county has a better one regardless of breeding. His yearling colts are near Purdy, and of course were raised from common mares, yet they are far superior to colts raised from better mares that were sent away and bred to horses at a higher price. Any one can talk, but all people cannot prove their words to be true. For the proof of what I have said I refer any interested party to any colt ever sired by Grey Lexington. His colts are walking advertisements of his worth as a breeder.

He will Serve Mares at $10 to Insure a Living Colt.

Money due when colt is foaled or mare traded. Mares that have failed to produce for years and those intended for jockey purposes are not wanted. No responsibility for accidents will be assumed.

PEDIGREE: Sired by Red Bird 1866, A. S. H. R., he by Joe Brown 1855, he by Cabell's Lexington 2234. Red Bird's dam by Bailey's Dexter, he by Cabell's Lexington. Grey Lexington's dam, a standard bred mare entitled to register.

COLONEL BRECKENRIDGE.

In peace or in war the mule is a winner. If you want a mule colt you cannot do better than to breed to Colonel Breckenridge. He was formerly owned by Wolford Bros., of Casey's Creek, and while in that section he proved himself to be a superb breeder. C. C. Russell, of Watson, raised a mule sired by this Jack that was never defeated in a show ring when shown single. When it was four years old he rejected an offer of $350.00 for it only one week before it died. Two mules sired by this Jack were shown in the two year old class at the Columbia Fair last year, one winning, the premium the other certificate. This indicates that the better mules than his are produced in the county.

Colonel Breckenridge is a good individual, fifteen hands high and is in good condition to make a season. He will be permitted to serve mares at $7.00. Terms same as those mentioned above.

The above named stock will make the season of 1909 on the farm of Jas. R. Wade on Green River two miles east of Absher, and two miles north of Purdy. Stock will be kept on south side of river.

The high waters the closing days of February, turned the farms on this Creek all out to the commons, as all fencing on low lands were washed away. Moody Texas.

I have just been reading the Adair County News. I notice the people of Adair have lots of rain.

On the 6 of March Moody, had one of the most severe hail and wind storm that ever struck Moody Texas. Your reporter was at Moody and saw the storm coming and went home; I just got home in time. The hail fell like snow except it was near the size of a large apple.

There was a big crowd in town some started home and the storm over took them. The estimation is that it will take one thousand dollars to replace the window panes that were broken out by hail in Moody alone, besides great damage to property in the country. Some farm houses had the roof entirely beaten off. I have heard old people say that it was the worst they ever saw.

We are needing rain very badly, haven't had but three light showers since I came here, seven months ago. The gardens look very well. Corn planting is most over in this community, cotton planting will begin the first of April. We have a nice Methodist church in Moody, have a fine preacher, Bro. Berry, preach every Sunday morning and evening, prayer meeting every Wednesday evening; have a fine Sabbath school about two hundred scholars. Mr. S. Hundley a former citizen of Adair county, is the Supt., Well there are lots of Kentucky people here; so I don't get very lonesome. I enjoy reading the News very much. Well I guess I had better ring off. Howard L. Keltner.

Edith.

Mr. L. T. Williams, who has been attending the L. W. T. S. for the past two months, returned home the first of March.

Mrs. L. C. Harmon visited her son, Mont Harmon, a few days last week.

Mrs. Lee Turner, of Inroad, was visiting her parents at this place last week.

Mr. David Ragan, of Crocus, was here last Sunday.

D. Blair, of Glensfork, was visiting his uncle, J. A. Turner, on last Sunday.

Our saw and grist mill man, Mr. Otha Biba, is doing a good business. He cuts nice, smooth, even, lumber and plenty of it, he also makes good meal to the satisfaction of this community.

Mr. Vander Collins, of the L. W. T. S. was at home last Sunday. He also visited his sister, Mrs. Verna Hays, of Crocus.

D. W. McFarling was at Crocus on business one day last week.

Mr. Velmer Antle is in from Texas, visiting his father and family, Mr. S. A. Antle, of this neighborhood.

Now, Mr. Campbell, of Dirigo, you are mistaken in the J. A. Turner, the one you mentioned is Superintendent of common schools of Metcalfe county. There is one J. A. Turner living in Adair county, but the one you want lives in Russell county. Now, Bro. Campbell the readers of the News are waiting to see you make a satisfactory explanation of how the farming lands in your section sell so cheap. They are sitting as jurors in the case and will not except that $10,000.00 sale as evidence. Now sir, call Dr. Hunter into court and I will cross examine him. Now Dr. you sold that farm on Harrodsfork for $10,000.00?—Yes sir. Was not that sale made in time of the oil excitement in 1865?—Yes sir. And you was selling oil lands? Yes sir. And not farming lands. No sir. Now, Dr. state to this jury what that land would have sold for at that time as farming land. I think $700.00 would have been a fair price. Now, Dr., state to the jury as to how that farm rated with other farms in that section. I think it was about an average farm in value as farming lands. Now, Bro. Campbell call another witness.

Eskota, Texas.

Editor News:

If you will allow me space in the columns of your paper I have concluded I would write a short letter as I have never seen anything from this part of Texas in the News, and I have lots of friends in Russell and Adair counties, probably, some of them would like to know what kind of a world I am living in.

Eskota, is on the T. & P. R. R. 200 miles west of Ft Worth and 300 miles east of El Paso, and is a nice little town with 300 inhabitants. We have 4 general merchandise stores, one Bank, two churches, two Hotels, one blacksmithshop, one barber shop, one gin, fine public school and the rail roads have their coal chutes here, which makes all trains stop here, in fact we have everything here they have anywhere to make things lively. We have plenty of wolves to keep us company at night. I work at night and the wolves come up almost to my office, still I am not afraid of them but I always lock the doors and pull down the windows when I hear them coming.

This is a fine farming country here, cotton being the principal crop. They also raise any kind of feed stuff and ship a great deal of stock from here. Land sells $30 to $40. per acre having advanced $10. per acre since I have been here. I have been here nearly three years; guess I will make this my future home but I hate to give old Kentucky up, but the people that knew me there knows I was always looking for an easy job and I have found it now, so guess I better stay with it. I am working for the rail road as operator; don't have much to do only have to work 8 hours out of 24; it's against the law to work overtime.

Well if this escapes the waste basket I will try and write again some time. I don't expect this to be an up-to-date letter, as I never wrote one before. A word or two for the Adair county News and then I am through. It is the best paper I can get hold of to read. It's almost like visiting the old Russell county home when I get my paper every week. Every body that likes to read a good paper should take the News.

All the people here are good. Guess its because they are all Democrats, Republicans are as scarce here as moon shiners are getting to be in Kentucky. 73 to Horace Jeffries, to whom I went to school the last schooling ever had. Halloo to everybody.

W. G. Leach,
Eskota, Texas.

Class Distinction Is Un-American; Neighborliness Should Prevail.

By JACOB A. RIIS, Author and Journalist.

TWENTY years ago there wasn't a single settlement in New York city. Now there are more than sixty of them, and the settlement idea is spreading everywhere.

The settlement is not a cure-all. It's just a means of giving us something that in our modern cities we otherwise haven't got at all—NEIGHBORLINESS in the true sense of the word. In the small villages from which our cities grew there was democracy in social relations. The city has killed that. But it is ESSENTIAL TO A FULL AND COMPLETE LIFE, and we must revive it.

ALL THE GRASPING AND THE GREED OF THIS WORLD COMES FROM NOT REGARDING OUR FELLOWS AS OUR NEIGHBORS. ONE DOESN'T TRAMPLE HIS NEIGHBORS. HE WORKS WITH THEM TO A COMMON END. WE MUST COME TO LOOK ON ALL THE WORLD AS OUR NEIGHBORS.

We must do away with the idea of classes. THERE ISN'T ANY JUSTIFICATION FOR CLASS LINES IN AMERICA. They are unjust, unwholesome, unrighteous and un-American.

Why should we have class lines here in this country and one man despise another just because he has been lucky enough to make a little more money? A man has some right to be proud of what he makes with his own hands and his own brains, but HE HASN'T ANY BUSINESS PUTTING ON AIRS over what he is merely trying to spend.

WE ARE ALL WORKINGMEN HERE IN AMERICA. I have never seen a man that was worth anything who didn't work in one way or another. I think that often the man who sits at a desk does harder work than the man who handles a shovel. But, anyway, they BOTH ARE WORKINGMEN.

THERE ARE JUST TWO CLASSES, THOSE WHO WORK AND THOSE WHO DON'T, AND THERE ISN'T ANY REASON WHY ALL THOSE WHO WORK SHOULDN'T BE NEIGHBORS TO EACH OTHER IN THE TRUE SENSE.

Woman's Position Would Be Lowered by the Ballot.

By Mrs. STUYVESANT FISH, New York Society Leader and Antisuffragist.

I THINK too well of women to imagine that they can be benefited by mixing in the mire of politics. They ALWAYS HAVE MOVED AND EVER SHOULD MOVE IN A HIGHER SPHERE and deal with better and more lasting things than the election of this one or that other to office.

We cannot and ought not to go against nature. From the time of Adam and Eve men and women have occupied different positions in life and have discharged different duties, and this we cannot alter. Women have rights, and they should know and maintain those rights, but this can be done WITHOUT THE BALLOT by working on the lines where woman's power is limitless.

WOMEN MUST ACT TOGETHER, WHICH THEY NEVER YET HAVE DONE. THEN THEY MUST USE THEIR BRAINS TO GET WHAT THEY WANT THROUGH THE MEANS WHICH GOD HAS GIVEN THEM SO ABUNDANTLY. ANY WOMAN OF BRAINS—I WILL NOT SAY BEAUTY, BUT OF CHARM AND ATTRACTIVENESS—CAN DRAW WHAT SHE NEEDS FROM MOST MEN.

One argument made by the suffragettes is that a woman has no control over her own property. However this may have been years ago, at the present time it is not the case generally throughout the United States. Besides this, a woman can have the advice of the most able men in the country just BECAUSE SHE IS A WOMAN and alone. Were she to meet man as an equal in the struggle for existence her position would be far worse.

EVEN THOUGH BLESSED OR CURSED WITH THE VOTE, SHE COULD NOT THEN HOPE FOR WHAT SHE NOW GETS SO LARGELY AND FREELY THROUGH THE CHIVALRY OF EDUCATED MEN TOWARD OUR SEX.

We Are Overhasty In Criticising Our Presidents.

By ELMER H. GARY, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the United States Steel Corporation.

IF during a national administration ills befall the country as the result of whatever conditions, it is natural to PLACE THE BLAME ON THE PRESIDENT. In such cases all the good that he may have done or the success that he may have attained for the nation is overlooked for the time being.

WE ARE GREAT ADMIRERS OF A PRESIDENT IMMEDIATELY AFTER HIS INAUGURATION, BUT DURING HIS TERM, AS TIME GOES BY AND WHEN IN SOME WAY AND FOR SOME REASON WE MEET WITH OPPOSITION TO OUR PARTICULAR PLANS AND WISHES, WE CHANGE OUR MIND AND BEGIN TO CRITICISE.

I would not minimize the obligations attached to the exalted position of president or the RIGHT TO CRITICISE in proper language and spirit from time to time his acts and words. But EVERY CITIZEN OF THIS COUNTRY SHARES THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE CONDITIONS AND THE RESULTS. If the leading men would at all times show a disposition to harmonize with the work of those who have been elected to positions of public trust, ASSUMING THEIR INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY for the character and reputation and moral and material conditions of the country, instead of resorting to complaint and condemnation of official action, sometimes even defying the law itself, the grounds for MUCH OF THE UNFAVORABLE CRITICISM OF GOVERNMENT MANAGEMENT WOULD DISAPPEAR.

Elderly People Helped Free

The last years of life are the sweetest, and yet the most difficult to prolong. It is then that the greatest care is exercised in maintaining bodily health. But the chief care should always be with regard to the food you eat and whether you are digesting it properly. You should not allow yourself to become constipated.

No doubt you have tried salts and cathartic pills, purgative tablets, etc., and have come to the conclusion that they are violent in action and do but temporary good. Listen, then, to the voice of experience with regard to a wonderful and mild laxative, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is not a medicine, but a food to find new friends for it.

A. A. Feltz of Johnston City, Ill., suffered from stomach trouble for six years and found in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. His wife uses it too with success. We could name hundreds of others. Some heard of it first through neighbors or friends, others through a doctor's offer to send any sufferer from a stomach or bowel complaint a free sample bottle for trial, without charge. If you want to know more, send for a bottle. It will send you a trial bottle direct to your home. It is not a medicine, but a food. It contains no harmful ingredients, as all of them sell it. Old people, like children, should work for purity, and it is well to mention that the purity of the remedy is vouched for with the U. S. Government. Also, through a free bottle sent to prove its merits, results are always guaranteed from the regular bottles bought of druggists, who will refund your money if it does not satisfy you. Send at least for the free test bottle today.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 200 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.
